

Why Join ACCP?

ACCP, founded in 1998 as a national College of the American Academy of Medical Administrators (AAMA), provides support and opportunity for individuals who are in healthcare planning positions in contingency, emergency and disaster response.

Membership provides opportunities:

- To actively participate in establishing industry priorities and direction, defining standards of practice and a body of knowledge for the profession of contingency planning.
- To broaden your own development as a planner, through education, leadership experiences and professional contacts.

ACCP: The professional organization of choice for healthcare emergency managers, contingency planners and business continuity professionals.

Credentials and recognition to help you achieve career success!

American College of Contingency Planners

A specialty group of the American Academy of Medical Administrators
Advancing excellence in healthcare leadership.

701 Lee Street, Ste 600

Des Plaines, IL 60016-4516

Phone 847/759-8601

Fax 847/759-8602

Email info@aameda.org

www.aameda.org

American College of Contingency Planners

Broaden Your Horizons

Advancing excellence in healthcare leadership and emergency management

A specialty group of the American Academy of Medical Administrators
Advancing excellence in healthcare leadership

www.aameda.org

ACCP: A community of contingency planners at all levels of public and private organizations

- Preparedness, emergency and business continuity professionals
- Healthcare providers and healthcare administrators
- Military medical planners
- Public health professionals
- Students interested in the contingency planning field

Join AAMA and ACCP Today!

Online at www.aameda.org

By fax, with your credit card, at 847/759-8602

By phone, with your credit card, at 847/759-8601

By mail, to AAMA, at 701 Lee Street, Ste. 600,
Des Plaines, IL 60016-4516

ACCP: Significant benefits for contingency planners

- Access to a community of local, national and international contingency planning specialists, accessible in person, by online directory, and via listserv for instant contact
- Exposure to innovative solutions through cutting-edge education programs
- Focused information through contingency planning sessions at each AAMA Annual Conference
- Experience-based and exam-based professional credential opportunities, including the respected Fellow of the American College of Contingency Planners (FACCP), to distinguish yourself and build your career
- Convenient access to up-to-date information through online publications and 2000+ live and archived webinars.

Your Link to the American Academy of Medical Administrators (AAMA)

AAMA recognizes and brings together the diverse specialties of the broad, multi-disciplined medical administration community. Since 1957, AAMA has provided:

- Solutions, contacts and strategies to assist healthcare administrators maintain their competitive edge.
- Connection with experts in multiple specialties.
- Colleges that focus on the administration of federal healthcare, contingency planning, cardiovascular services, healthcare information systems, health plan management and oncology. AAMA members enjoy the privileges of any of these groups without additional fees.
- Peer-reviewed online publications, major annual conferences, plus volunteer leadership and networking opportunities.

For more information, call 847/759-8601, email membership@aameda.org, or go to www.aameda.org