

Why ACCP?

... value for your investment.

We are a professional community with the vision to recognize the hazards and threats you face and the combined knowledge of our members to assist you in preparing for them.

We are healthcare specialists, whether what you do is pre-hospital response, focused on the needs of your facility or system, or governmental program management.

We are an active community that values your interest and involvement. We offer opportunities for service, advancement, and professional recognition unique to disaster and contingency management.

... plus all the advantages of full membership in the American Academy of Medical Administrators.

ACCP: Broaden Your Development in Education, Leadership and Service

Who We Are

The American College of Contingency Planners is the professional organization for healthcare professionals and students involved in the practice of:

- healthcare emergency management at facility, system, local, state, and federal levels
- contingency planning, including military medical contingency planning
- business continuity and disaster recovery, including both enterprise-wide continuity and information technology recovery

Why Join ACCP?

ACCP membership serves two important purposes:

- An opportunity to give back to your profession through setting standards of practice, developing its body of knowledge, and shaping the next generation of practitioners.
- An opportunity to broaden your own development as a professional through education, leadership and service.

What We Do

ACCP offers significant benefits to its members through:

- professional networking, nationally and locally
- focused professional development opportunities
- targeted sessions at the AAMA Annual Conference to help you prepare for bad events
- partnerships with related professional organizations
- the Fellow of the American College of Contingency Planners — the recognized gold standard credential — along with access to other AAMA credentialing programs. For details, check online at www.aameda.org, Professional Advancement
- access to up-to-date information through contingency planning articles in AAMA publications
